

FIELD MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Field Museum of Natural History (founded by Marshall Field in 1893) is located at Roosevelt Road and Lake Michigan, Chicago, Illinois. The exterior is of Georgia white marble and is treated in a monumental manner based on Greek architecture of the Ionic order. The building is 700 feet long, 440 feet wide, and 104 feet high and has more than eleven acres of exhibition area.

Photograph by Henry Fuermann and Sons, Chicago.

THIS SPACE FOR WRITING

Best wishes for the New Year.
Henry Field.

35
POST CARD

THIS SIDE FOR ADDRESS

Professor G. Kioradze
Myzen Tpyan
Georgian Museum

Tiflis

U.S.S.R. Georgia